

Formatted example *the unbolded text could be omitted for now. But for more complex parsing we can try to get the program to read the lines to find clues about the location!

- Should ignore emojis
- Should understand that when no year is included, the next closest date is implied.

Monday (9/1) - Special Treats! 🛍️🎁🎀

Guess what, you don't have to do anything for this event! Sometimes during the day, you will be gifted a little care package at your door! Mysteriously and Miraculously...

Tuesday (9/2) (8:30-10:30pm) - Mock Rehearsal 🎵🎵🎵

A rehearsal already?? That's right! Join us Tuesday night at the 1515 to experience what an actual rehearsal with the V's is like!

Wednesday (9/3) (8pm) - Mario Kart Night 🚗💥🌟

Come down to the Vvvv, (1203 Wertland Street; where you went Sunday) and play the worldwide-classic game Mario Kart.... with a little twist. If you'd like to find out what this twist is, feel free to stop by!

Thursday (9/4) (8pm) - Harmhoos x Flying V's Mixer 🌀🌀🌀

YAYAYAYAYAY Mixer!! And as we are the hosts of this occasion, come on back down the Vvvv to get to know more people within the acappella community here at UVA!

Friday (9/5) (9pm) - Newvie Party!! 🎸🎸🎸

Yippee! It's the bestest part of the whole week! Bring your friends, roommates, hallmates, anyone else to the Vvvv for the fabulous end-of-week party! You'll be able to meet old Vs from the past as well as party with the current ones!

More challenging example

- Must ignore italics (those are not events, just notes)
- Must ignore irrelevant words and symbols (emojis and “INFINITY!!”)
- For 10/26: “forever”, may be interpreted to last “a very long time”. But we have to tell the program how to interpret those, ideally, the program would infer that and make the event last until midnight.
- Entries with no specified time should be interpreted as “all day” event
- Typo-fixing?
- Pattern recognition?
